Server Down, Down, Down

Mysuru East Sub-Registrar B.G. Manju supervising the property registration process at his office on Dr. Rajkumar Road in city.

- OTP-based property registration a painfully slow process
- Unresponsive server, software snags inconvenience citizens

By M.T. Yogesh Kumar

Mysuru, Feb.15- The new One-Time Password (OTP)-based system of property registrations rolled out on Feb. 5 by the Department of Stamps and Registration for all property registrations through Kaveri software is inconveniencing property owners, sellers and also officials. Reason: Painfully slow software, unresponsive server and a host of glitches in the newly-developed software.

As a result, property registrations have slowed down in entire Mysuru district with people crowding in front of counters at Sub-Registrar's Office. Some are made to stand for hours holding their property documents while officials grapple with errors on their computers without having any clue on how to solve the issues. Public are told that server is down and only a handful registrations could be done at any given day.

Problem from day one

The problem with the software was noticed on day one (Feb.5) when the system was rolled out and till now, the issue has not been sorted out. As a result, the precious Government revenue is lost with many people shying away from buying and selling properties. Property registration is a major revenue-grosser for the Government.

The OTP-based system was introduced to prevent any attempts at impersonation and forgery of documents and has been made mandatory for all property registrations in the State. The initiative is aimed at preventing impersonation and other irregularities during property registration.

Security feature update

OTP-based security feature acts as a solid proof in the event of any attempts at impersonation or forgery of land documents. The system will alert the buyer and seller and also the authorities manning the Kaveri software if any fraudulent transaction takes place in the future. Centre for Development of Advanced Computing (C-DAC) in Bengaluru has developed the software.

Post-prandial nap at workplace

Former President of India, late Dr. A.P.J. Abdul Kalam, made it a habit of mingling with school students inviting them to ask questions without any fetters, responding to the students marked by his signature humility. On one such occasion of his visit to a prestigious school in Mysuru, he moved from the stage, sitting amidst the students egged them to ask questions. One girl sought to know the effort required to become a scientist of eminence like him. His reply that made the students awestruck was marked by the unique message of the value of dreaming. The supplementary question got the answer that he stayed awake until 2 am engrossed in studying to learn about advances in science and better understanding of the happenings around him. The students may have missed the point that India's President remains awake, yet enjoys dreaming, while bestowing low priority to sleep, unlike most of us, who don't hesitate to say that there is nothing like a good nap. Scientists agree that coffee naps are better than coffee or naps alone. India's army of Government employees, babudom with public image that doesn't need to be said explicitly, seem to prove that time spent for coffee breaks and also for a nap at their workplace is highly beneficial for their health.

Sleep efficiency is calculated by the ratio of time of actual sleep to time spent in bed. Just over five hours of sleep out of eight hours in bed is considered not good sleep efficiency according to a seasoned sleep management consultant. The number of hours that an employee of the Government is required to be at the workplace being a statutory matter, time of the employee taking nap at workplace or seen to be awake as it contributes to work efficiency can be a fascinating study.

Quantitative measure of sleep and qualitative factor being inversely related or otherwise, studied by research teams, as published, hint at beneficial role of post-lunch nap. Further, studies revealed that increased night sleep didn't have any measurable positive impacts on a range of outcomes, such as alertness, behaviour, work efficiency and so on. A paper published recently by the National Bureau of Economic Research, based in Cambridge, Massachusetts, USA, has brought out that higher quality of sleep improves economic and psychological outcomes over an increase in number of hours of sleep. Adults in Chennai, studied by the research team, had strikingly low quantity and quality of sleep, despite spending eight hours in bed.

While lying in bed is not the same thing as sleep, the environment both in the family of employees and in the workplace plays a significant part in getting benefits of sleep. The conclusion that when the employees are allowed to have a short nap after lunch at the workplace itself, their efficiency of working also increases has its merits. However, sleep at the cost of providing ideal administration doesn't pass public scrutiny.

THE INFALLIBLE LAW OF ACTION AND REACTION: Every action, as the ancient sages and later, Newton, too discovered, has an equal and opposite reaction. This is true in both the physical domain as well as life in general. Whatever action we do, incurs a reaction. Importantly, the thing to recognise here is that an action is always in the present, but its reaction always comes a moment, a few seconds, a minute, some hours or even eons later, depending on the nature of the action. Hence, the result occurs in the future. When the results are immediate, the law of cause and effect is clearly evident. For example, overeating today may result in indigestion tomorrow; but diseases brought on by toxic lifestyles manifest years later. Frequently, we see people working hard, with dedication and sincerity; despite all efforts, desired results are not obtained. The result of an action is based on two factors that are in our hands: our motive and the action itself.

Mother being mistaken for her teen daughter

California: Joleen Diaz, a 43-year-old woman from California has been dubbed "the world's hottest mom" on social media, with millions commending her for her incredibly youthful looks, which often get her and her 19-year-old daughter confused for siblings.

An elementary school teacher by profession, Joleen says that she doesn't mind getting mistaken for her daughter's sibling, and neither does she. She had Meilani when she was very young, so it's not entirely possible to believe that they could be sisters; plus, while growing up Meilani would always hear people tell Joleen they thought her mother was her sister, so she is used to it. Still, the 43-year-old looks pretty incredible for her age, which she attributes to her religious skin care.

Man releases rodents into hotel rooms to claim compensation

Utah: A Utah man is facing criminal charges after admitting of releasing rodents in at least three different hotels, then complain about the pesky critters and get compensated with a free room.

According to Police, 37-year-old Ryan Sentelle State, would check into hotels with rodents like mice and hamsters as well and once inside the room, he would release the rodents and then call staff and complain about the terrible hygiene. He would point out the droppings and in some cases the rodents themselves and ask to be exempt from paying for the accommodation.

He obviously got away with this tactic a few times, but was caught finally. As he is accused of scamming at least three hotels, authorities believe he has scammed several more hotels in the area.

Accident-prone road in Saraswathipuram needs attention

Sir,

An accident occurred today afternoon when two-wheelers each driven by young girls crashed at the junction — one approaching on the 2nd Cross and another from 12th Main of Saraswathipuram. This junction is just opposite to my house. Fortunately, it was not a fatal accident.

While one girl did not sustain any injury, the other girl was injured in the hand and the chin. One of the girls was not wearing any helmet. Several accidents have happened at the junction and I have rendered first-aid and today since my neighbour who is a doctor was in the house, he attended to the injured girl.

I have complained about this accident-prone road to the authorities concerned several times and even requested the engineer and contractor when the roads were being repaired. Unfortunately nobody has taken it seriously. Hence, I request the MCC Commissioner to personally look into this matter and see that besides providing speed-breakers, warning signals are installed as I find this particular junction appears to be very vulnerable for accidents.

Pet dog menace in Yadavagiri

Sir,

I am a resident of Yadavagiri for several decades. We have formed an Association and most of us are also part of a WhatsApp Group, which we effectively use in order to report and thereby solve some of the issues faced by the area residents. Among other activities, members have contributed to buying street-lamps which will be installed for safety after dark.

Over the last two years, some residents have been bitten by pet dogs that belong to a very respectable family that live in a house on Vivekananda Road. Personal requests and Police complaints have had no impact as they continue to leave the dogs out to roam freely on the streets.

The most recent incidents happened on Feb.4, where a house maid was bitten and again on Feb. 12 evening the pet has bitten a lady. There seems to be no end to this problem. S.K. Dinesh, who takes a lot of interest in getting our issues solved, has taken the initiative to lodge an FIR at V.V. Puram Police Station. The Inspector advised us that we should also approach the City Corporation authorities for such matters.

We sincerely hope that this menace will be solved. Though this is not a common occurrence in other areas, it could happen anywhere at any time if we have inconsiderate citizens.

Dacoity case unearths murky plot of 'honour killing'

The Malavalli Sub-Division Police team that nabbed the five accused involved in dacoity.

Malavalli, Feb. 15 (Shiva shankar&KS)- A shocking revelation awaited Malavalli Sub-Division Police, who had arrested a gang of five dacoits for threatening a home-alone woman and looting gold jewellery and cash from the house.

During interrogation, the Police were shocked after the accused revealed that they had received supari from a couple to eliminate their son-in-law, who was from a different caste and the interesting part is that the gang had burgled the house of the couple who had given them supari.

Details: Sushma, daughter of Venkatesh and Puttathayamma couple of Vaddara Colony in Malavalli had married one Arun Kumar, belonging to a different caste a year ago, after they fell in love. Despite stiff opposition from Sushma's parents they had got married.

About three months ago, Venkatesh and Puttathayamma had given a supari of Rs. 1.25 lakh, paid in instalments, to 38-year-old Lokesh, a private ambulance driver at Bengaluru and 36-year-old Kumar, a native of Arakalgud and a fruit vendor at Malavalli. Kumar was residing at Kote Beedhi in Malavalli. This was revealed by the accused during interrogation.

Lokesh and Kumar, who had other plans, had planned to burgle the house of Venkatesh and Puttathayamma. On Feb. 12 at about 9 pm, Lokesh and Kumar along with 38-year-old Mohan of Bengaluru and 35-year-old Lokesh of Malavalli, took the car (KA-05-MQ-1623) of one Mahadeva and came to the house of Venkatesh and Puttathayamma. On finding Puttathayamma alone at the house, Lokesh and Kumar, who informed her that the other persons accompanying them were Police, brandished a toy pistol and knife and took away Rs. 35,000 cash kept in the almirah and also snatched a 30-gram gold chain and a 3-gram gold finger ring from Puttathayamma.

Puttathyamma, who later came to know that the persons who had come to her house were not Police but dacoits, lodged a complaint at Malavalli Town Police Station. Superintendent of Police (SP) Parashuram, who took up the case, formed a special team comprising Malavalli DySP M.J. Pruthvi, Malavalli Town Inspector C.N. Ramesh, Malavalli Rural Sub-Inspector H.D. Manju and staff Anjanamurthy, A.C. Prakash, C. Umesh, Sunil Kumar and Police Jeep driver Siddegowda to be supervised by ASP Dr. V.J. Shobharani.

The team, which took up the case, conducted an operation and arrested the five accused near Ramanagar and subjected them to interrogation during which the accused revealed that they had received supari from Venkatesh and Puttathayamma to kill their son-in-law, Arun. The gang also confessed to the burglary. The Police immediately took Venkatesh and Puttathayamma also into custody and on enquiry, the couple spilled the beans.

The Police, who have registered a case of dacoity against the five persons, have also registered a case against Venkatesh and Puttathayamma for giving supari to kill their son-in-law.

All the accused were produced before a Court, which remanded them to judicial custody.

Bahuroopi 2020 treads on Gandhi Patha

Six-day Theatre Festival opens to a packed audience

Mysuru, Feb. 15 (SBD&BCT)- O Lord Rama, descendant of Raghu, uplifter of the fallen... you and your beloved consort Sita are to be worshipped... all names of God refer to the same Supreme Being, including Eshwara and the Allah... O Lord, Please give peace and brotherhood to everyone, as we are all your children...

This "Raghupathi Raghava" Bhajan from 'Nama Ramayana' written by Sri Lakshmanacharya and adopted by Mahatma Gandhi to bring peace among Hindus, Muslims and other communities reverberated across Rangayana last evening and will continue to do so for the next five days as the six-day Bahuroopi Theatre Festival with the theme 'Gandhi Patha' (Gandhi's Path) took off to a colourful start last evening.

A typical night celebrations with music and cultural events is usually held on the night of Mahashivaratri. But in Rangayana, the Shivaratri-like after-dark celebrations began last evening, eight days ahead of Mahashivaratri. The Rangayana premises that wore a deserted look last morning was transformed by evening with the entire Kalamandira campus dotted with colourfully-dressed people, youths, elderly, women and children while the interiors of Rangayana played out to the colourful inauguration amidst thunderous applause by people packed in every corner, including the balcony.

This year's Bahuroopi has been built around the theme of 'Gandhi Patha' paying a tribute to the life, times and ideals of the Father of the Nation and commemorating Mahatma Gandhi's 150th birth anniversary celebrations. We often witness questions that seek to know whether core of Gandhiji was ever explored adequately in modern literature and theatre. The truth of Gandhi, his life that continues to suffuse with time, should have made its way into our modern literature, performing arts and theatre.

Though truth and non-violence seem like a contradiction, they are not the only and final truth. The metaphors of 'Salt-Charakha-Prayer' can even be interpreted as 'Poverty-Perseverance-Obedience'. 'Gandhi Patha' reminds us again about truth, non-violence, tolerance, equality, cleanliness, hard work, women empowerment, politics and philosophy.

Also, today we are faced with the question whether Gandhi is relevant to the younger generation. This relevance or the lack of it is open for debate at Bahuroopi.

Rangayana Director Addanda C. Cariappa describes Bahuroopi, "Our goal is to go beyond the 'binaries' and to walk towards the 'path'. We are taking a small step from 'Rashtra Pita' to 'Rashtra Patha'."

Bahuroopi Theatre Festival was inaugurated at Vanaranga by acclaimed actor Anant Nag along with a host of dignitaries including Kannada and Culture Minister C.T. Ravi, Mysuru-Kodagu MP Pratap Simha, MLA L. Nagendra, Rangayana Joint Director V.N. Mallikarjunaswamy and Director Addanda Cariappa.

As Anant Nag unveiled the specially designed screen, the "Gandhi Patha" came alive with youth dressed up as a young Gandhi, a Gandhi who came to India from South Africa and the Gandhiji we all are familiar with — with his Khadi, Stick and a Charaka.

As the curtains of the Gandhi Patha unfurled, audience and the guests regaled as was evident in huge applause that echoed across, standing ovation and slogans "Mahatma Gandhi Ki Jai" that rent the air. Another attraction of the inauguration is three men depicting the proverbial principle "see no evil, hear no evil, and speak no evil" which are also Mahatma Gandhi's favourite words.

Apart from the acclaimed play 'Gandhi Vs Gandhi', a bouquet of plays in various languages from across the nation will be staged at the fest. Folk artistes will sing and perform Lavanis and Tatva Pada based on Gandhi and poems written by renowned Kannada poets on Gandhi would be recited to a packed audience as part of the festival.

A recreated Sabarmati Ashram draws crowd at Rangayana

The place that shaped the future of a nation that we now all know as India

Mysuru, Feb. 15 (SBD&BCT)- The serenity of Sabarmati Ashram touches the very core of our 'being' and we develop a strange bond with the man who changed the course of Indian history. A visit to Sabarmati Ashram in Ahmedabad in Gujarat, one realises and appreciates the sheer power of the frail man who moved nations with his grit and determination.

Sabarmati Ashram, which is also referred to as Mahatma Gandhi Ashram or simply as Gandhi Ashram, was an epicentre of power and a very important place that influenced events that finally culminated in the Independence of India on the 15th of August, 1947.

It was in the year 1917 that the Gandhi Ashram was born. The Ashram is built on the banks of River Sabarmati and served as Mahatma Gandhi's home where he stayed with his wife Kasturba for a period of 12 eventful years.

Visitors to Rangayana for the 6-day Bahuroopi Theatre Festival can enjoy the ambience of Sabarmati Ashram that has been recreated at Rangayana premises. The Ashram has been recreated complete with charakhas, handloom, Khadi textiles and others under a thatched roof with the board 'Charakha mattu Kaimagga'.

Several boards with Gandhiji's ideologies like non-violence and truth, along with his rare pictures, have been erected in the premises.

The slogans of Gandhi: "My religion is based on truth and non-violence. Truth is my god and non-violence is the means of realising Him" and similar ones are on display. A replica of Mahatma Gandhi is also erected at a vantage point.

Keeping in mind Gandhi's vision for clean India, the premises is plastic-free and bamboos have been used for boards and other crafts on the premises.

As the Mahatma advocated development of cottage industries in villages, a few shops, selling kitchen utensils made of clay and bamboo, have been opened. Artisans are also demonstrating pottery and basket-weaving at the venue.

I used to spin charakha daily for an hour at Ananda Ashram: Anant Nag

Mysuru, Feb. 15 (SBD&BCT)- In his Bahuroopi 2020 inaugural address, actor and theatre personality Anant Nag recalled how the Mahatma had inspired him when he grew up in Ananda Ashram. His address was listened to by the audience with rapt attention. Every nook and corner of Vanaranga inside Rangayana, including the balcony, was jam-packed with people.

The audience greeted the actor with love and clapped whenever the actor sprinkled his speech with humour and anecdotes.

Nag recalled the days when he used to spin the charakha daily for an hour at the ashram. Anant Nag had his early schooling in a catholic school in Ajjarkad, Udupi, Ananda Ashram in Dakshina Kannada and Chitrapur Math in Uttara Kannada districts of the erstwhile Mysore State (now Karnataka).

Using the august audience to lay emphasis on safeguarding Kannada and saving Kannada schools from closure, he recited one of the dialogues from his film, 'Sarkari Hiriya Pratamika Shale Kasaragod' and received a huge applause. "We don't shut down ICUs because there are no patients. Likewise, we shouldn't close down Kannada schools because there are no children. Give education to the child that dreams in his or her mother-tongue," he appealed.

He said that it was his third visit to Rangayana as he had come here earlier for opening 'Chinnara Mela' and another event.

MP Pratap Simha described Anant Nag, who served as Minister in the J.H. Patel Cabinet, as a well-mannered politician and said it was unusual to see such knowledgeable and well-behaved personalities in politics.

In his address, Tourism Minister C.T. Ravi said that it is easy to speak about Gandhi's principles but difficult to follow them. "Gandhi had followed the path of truth and non-violence all his life," he noted.

Rangayana Director Addanda C. Cariappa, Rangayana Joint Director V.N. Mallikarjunaswamy, Bahuroopi 2020 Convener Hulagappa Kattimani, Kannada and Culture Assistant Director H. Channappa and others were present.

Actor and theatre personality Anant Nag addressing the gathering during the inauguration of Bahuroopi 2020 at Rangayana premises in city last evening as Rangayana Director Addanda C. Cariappa, MLA L. Nagendra, Canara Bank Head Office Priority Sector Credit GM D. Vijayakumar and Kannada and Culture Assistant Director H. Channappa look on.

Minister C.T. Ravi inspects site of Classical Kannada Centre

Kannada and Culture Minister C.T. Ravi listening to CIIL Director Dr. D.G. Rao during a spot inspection for the proposed building of Kannada Classical Centre in city this morning. The Minister was accompanied by Mysore University Vice-Chancellor Prof. G. Hemantha Kumar and others. [Pic. by Pragathi Gopalakrishna]

Mysuru, Feb.15 (RK&DM)- With the full-fledged Centre of Excellence for Studies in Classical Kannada (CESCK) in limbo, Kannada and Culture Minister C.T. Ravi this morning visited the site for the Centre at the old Tahsildar Office premises opposite Premier Studio on Hunsur Road from where Adult Education Office and District Skill Development Centres are still functioning.

Following directions from the State Government, the University of Mysore (UoM), to which the land belongs to, has volunteered to give this 3.5-acre plot along with the buildings on it, on a 30-year lease to the Central Institute of Indian Languages (CIIL) for setting up the full-fledged CESCK.

Upon his arrival, Ravi inspected the premises and the buildings, which he found to be in poor shape. He directed CIIL Director Dr. D.G. Rao to prepare an estimate for repairs of the buildings and also to prepare a DPR (Detailed Project Report) on the initial infrastructure needed for the establishment of CESCK, which will function under CIIL. Ravi also asked the district officials to communicate with the Deputy Commissioner on expediting the project, which has been lying in limbo for years and to take necessary measures for relocating the offices housed in the premises, in order to facilitate the CIIL to establish the Centre.

The Minister went around the entire premises and received inputs from the officials on the infrastructure readily available. Thereafter, the Minister instructed the officials to prepare a DPR for the construction of a new building for CESCK, which would be forwarded to the Union Government for releasing funds.

Later speaking to press persons, Ravi said, 'now that the confusion over the establishment of the Centre has ended (There was a proposal to shift the Centre to Bengaluru), measures will be taken to expedite the project, with the UoM providing the required land.' Ravi also noted that writer Prof. N.S. Taranath had submitted a report advocating the need for retaining the Centre in Mysuru.

Pointing out that a team of officials had recently visited Tamil Nadu to learn about the functioning of the Tamil Classical Language Studies Centre there, Ravi regretted that a full-fledged CESCK is yet to come up even after 12 years of Kannada getting the 'classical language' status in 2008. Noting that the Centre has been releasing Rs. 1 crore annually for the functioning of the Centre, Ravi regretted that the funds were not being utilised for want of the establishment of CESCK, which is very much disappointing. He has asked the officials to expedite the project in order to ensure full use of Kannada's rich heritage and added that the CESCK Governing Council will be constituted soon.

CIIL Faculty Prof. K. Durganath and Sannapapaiah, UoM Vice-Chancellor Prof. G. Hemantha Kumar, Kannada Development Authority Chairman T.S. Nagabharana, Kannada and Culture Department Assistant Director H. Chennappa and other officials accompanied the Minister during inspection.

MEMU trains: 8 more coaches

The trains are jam-packed and people stand on the footboard and any other available space to travel. Many users had complained to Mysuru-Kodagu MP Pratap Simha and had tweeted photos of the heavy rush in the trains.

In a communication, the Railways has stated that the coaches will be increased with effect from Feb. 17 (Monday) in the routes of Bengaluru-Mysuru (train no. 06575), Mysuru to Bengaluru (train no. 06576), Bengaluru to Ramanagara (train no. 66535), Ramanagara to Bengaluru (train no. 66536), Bengaluru to Whitefield (train no. 66542), Whitefield to Bengaluru (train no. 66541), Bengaluru to Kuppam (train no. 66544) and Kuppam to Bengaluru (train no. 66543).

Responding positively to the representations and complaints, the MP got the additional coaches added to the popular trains so that the rush could be controlled to some extent.

Speaking to Star of Mysore, Pratap Simha said that due to the demand, the Railways had obliged to add more coaches.

"Following my intervention, Minister of State for Railways Suresh Angadi had passed an order in November last year to add more coaches to the MEMU trains. But the officials were giving technical reasons though there were enough coaches. Again I spoke to the Minister and now the order has been issued," he said.

Travelling on the stretch between Mysuru and Bengaluru will be easier now with 16 coaches instead of the earlier eight coaches. "These MEMU services will also help a large number of daily commuters travelling from Mysuru, Mandya, Maddur and Channapattana to reach the suburban areas of Bengaluru like Nayandahalli, Kengeri and Hejjala," Simha said

The MEMU train can attain speed capacity of up to 110 kmph. While the seating capacity in motor coach is 55, the trailer coach has a seating capacity of 80. The capacity for standing passengers is 171 and 241 respectively.

PWD to conduct Road Traffic Survey on State Highways from Feb.19

Mysuru, Feb.15- In order to collect reliable traffic information, which is a key factor in land use, the Public Works Department (PWD) will be conducting a week-long Road Traffic Survey on State Highways passing through Mysuru, Mandya and Chamarajanagar districts from Feb.19 to 26.

The Department will be setting up vehicle count centres at select points on the Highways during this period.

All the motorists and vehicle drivers passing through the Highways are appealed to slow down at the count centres for an accurate conduct of the survey, according to PWD Superintending Engineer B.R. Veerabhadraiah.

Server down at Sub-Registrar Office

However, as soon as the system was rolled out across all the Sub-Registrar Offices, officers encountered glitches while operating the Kaveri software. Error messages are displayed on the '6.8 patch' whenever the documents or phone numbers are uploaded into the software and the process drags on for hours.

The slow pace of registrations has left many farmers, property buyers and sellers disappointed. The glitches have also proved to be a headache for the staff at Sub-Registrar Offices. In city, heavy rush is usually witnessed at Sub-Registrar's Offices on Dr. Rajkumar Road (East), Mini Vidhana Soudha at Nazarbad (North), near Vijayanagar Water Tank (West) and near Ramakrishnanagar Circle (South). Now with the new system, there is furthermore chaos and confusion.

Registration numbers dip

Sub-Registrar Offices registered zero transactions following which the new system was abruptly stopped till Feb.10. Now again the software is facing snags. The technical glitches are attributed to server breakdown and other faults in the network.

Prior to the introduction of OTP-based registration, about 80 to 90 property transactions used to take place on an average everyday at all Sub-Registrar Offices in city. But now this figure has dropped to 20 to 30, because of time-consuming process. As such, people are forced to wait for long hours after getting their tokens. Apart from property registrations, the OTP system is used for making Podi, partition of properties, availing loans on agricultural lands, registering agreements and such other transactions related to farm lands.

Public reaction

M.A. Kamala Anantharamu, a resident of Kurubarahalli, said that although the rationale behind the introduction of the new OTP system was good, the process is time-consuming. "Although the Government has made Aadhaar linking mandatory for most of its schemes, it is surprising to note that the Government is yet to link Aadhaar for property registration," she said.

S.N. Rajesh, a resident of Banumaiah Chowk, said that property buyers and sellers can get OTP number upon feeding of their valid mobile phone number. "This system has many shortcomings too as it is prone to deceit by fraudsters. As such, the best way is to link Aadhaar with property registrations," he said.

Congress protests against SC judgement on reservation

Mysuru, Feb. 15 (RK&DM)- As part of a State-wide stir, over 200 Congress workers, led by former Minister Dr. H.C. Mahadevappa, staged a demonstration urging the Centre to file a review petition against the recent Supreme Court verdict which said that 'reservation in job promotion is not a fundamental right,' at Gandhi Square here this morning.

Addressing the Congress workers, Dr. Mahadevappa maintained that the SC verdict on reservation in promotions has shocked the SC/ST communities. Asking the Centre to immediately file a petition seeking a review of its (SC) verdict, he blamed the BJP-led Government at the Centre for depriving Dalit and other oppressed communities of their rights. Accusing the BJP of acting against the interests of SC/STs, the former Minister warned that the Congress would intensify its protest if the Centre does not take measures for introducing a Bill that safeguards the rights of SC/ST communities that is guaranteed by the Constitution. He also urged the Centre to ensure that there is no change in job promotion reservation and that Government employees from SC/ST communities get justice.

MLA Dr. Yathindra Siddharamaiah, former MLAs M.K. Somashekar and Kalale Keshavamurthy, former Mayors Modamani, T.B. Chikkanna, Pushpalatha Chikkanna and Ayub Khan, City Congress President R. Murthy, District President Dr. B.J. Vijaykumar, leaders H. A. Venkatesh, Manjula Manasa, Bhaskar L. Gowda, Shantakumari, Arif Hussain, M. Shivanna and other Congress leaders were present.

Preserve Mahatma's legacy for spiritual growth: Film critic

Vidyashankar

Mysuru, Feb. 15 (MTY&SD)- "Our society as well as our communities, today, have not recognised the importance of Gandhi's path (Gandhi Patha), but it is very much alive and kindling the hearts of many individuals," opined film critic N. Vidyashankar.

He was speaking at the Bahuroopi Film Festival, which has been organised as part of Bahuroopi Theatre Festival 2020 at Bhomigeeta, Rangayana premises in city yesterday.

"Gandhi's path was 'Raja patha' for the country from 1910 to 1947, but now it has diluted into a number of smaller streams. Probably, even Gandhi was aware that his path might not survive the test of time in the society in the future. But, today, many individuals who have not identified themselves with any political parties or ideologies are following this path, as a personal choice," he added.

"Gandhiji did not have good opinion about cinema and was worried about its commercialisation. He had even expressed his anguish about the technology and its impact on the society," said Vidyashankar.

"Time has now come for us to adopt simple living or what we call as 'voluntary simplicity'. We can certainly preserve Mahatma Gandhi's legacy at least as an individual for our own spiritual growth," he advised.

Desi gastronomic delight: Todedevu, Kaayigarige, Kayi Malaka

Mouth-watering unique Desi recipes are special feature. Tasty, but little known recipes from Malnad region such as Todedevu, Kaayigarige, Kayi Malaka and others are new delicacies being introduced for the first time this year here.

Shantala Hegde of Padigeri village, Uttara Kannada district has set up a food stall where one can learn the art of making Todedevu, a sweet preserve prepared in a traditional manner. Preparing this delicacy needs little patience and experience.

To prepare this, thin batter prepared out of soaked and ground rice, mixed with sugar cane juice, will be smeared onto an inverted surface of hot mud pot. This yummy Todedevu dish looks almost like a thin dosa or a rumaali roti, but tastes heavenly with ghee and is unique. Shantala Hegde says one can preserve Todedevu up to six months and each costs Rs. 25.

Other recipes such as Kaayigarike prepared using rice flour, urad dal and spices and few other food items are attracting large number of food lovers. Akshata of Pandavapura taluk, a theatre artiste herself, has a Vegetarian Desi Food Stall. The menu here reminds a typical village style full meal, especially of Mysuru-Mandya-Hassan region. Ragi mudde with side dishes, rice made out of 'Jaya' variety of paddy along with payasam and vade are available.

Food lovers are also visiting and relishing other regional recipes of Karnataka. Hot Spicy stall from Hubballi is presenting jolada rotti with yennegai, mirchi and Girmit. One-hour puppet show, directed by Belagal Veeranna, has already been screened in different parts of the country and abroad with over 11,000 shows till date. Later, South Zone Cultural Centre, Tanjavoor presented folk dance much to the delight of the audience.

Kodavas dressed in their traditional attires added charm to the events. Spinning wheel and manual handloom weaving (Charakha and Kaimagga) is one more attraction.

701st show of Mukhyamantri at Kalamandira this evening

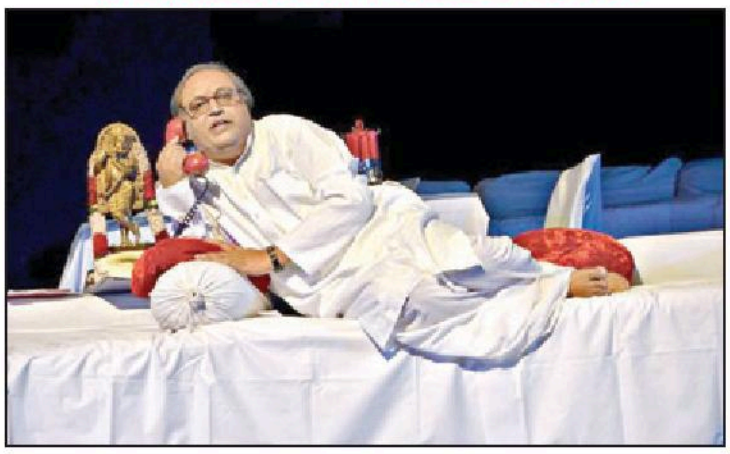
Lead actor Mukhyamantri Chandru says Kannada is in a state of crisis



A scene from the play 'Mukhyamantri.'

Mysuru, Feb. 15 (RKB&BCT)- Kannada play Mukhyamantri has made its mark as a classic. The play, with its meaning contemporary and dynamic, is a fine example of top-notch acting, direction and content.

It has completed 700 shows worldwide and the 701st show will be at Bahuroopi National Theatre Festival of Rangayana repertory today (Feb.15) at 7.30 pm at Kalamandira.

The play is a milestone in amateur theatre and efforts are being made to enter the record books. It is a play about a Machiavellian power-manoeuvre for the Chief Ministership of the fictitious Indian State of Udayanchal. It is a performance by Kalagangotri and senior artiste Mukhymantri Chandru is the lead actor. He is a veteran of 500-odd films. It is through his role in this play that he has earned his moniker, 'Mukhyamantri'.

'Mukhymantri' is the Kannada translation by T.S. Lohitashwa of the Hindi play by Ranjit Kapoor – which is based on a 1976 novel. It is directed by Dr. B.V Rajaram, who also plays the role of Dubey, the opponent of Chandru's character, Kaushal.

At a "Meet the Press" organised yesterday at Pathrakartara Bhavan yesterday, Mukhymantri Chandru opined that theatre persons should not compromise on their ideology and integrity, for availing benefits from the government. Play director Dr. B.V Rajaram and Mysore District Journalists Association (MDJA) President C.K. Mahendra were present.

Chandru said that 'Mukhyamantri' was penned with an intention to criticise politics and politicians.

"Whenever 'Mukhyamantri' was staged, there were effects. However, circumstances have changed now. Since the formation of coalition governments in Karnataka, politicians have lost sensitivity," he said.

Mukhyamantri Chandru, who is also the former Chairman of Kannada Development Authority, said that Kannada was in a state of crisis because of the continued indifference of the successive governments.

Liberalised education policies, resulting in commercialisation of education sector, are also to be blamed for the present state of Kannada and its development, he said.

"Governments must understand languages are the path to future. It is better to make Kannada mandatory instead of calling for giving priority to the language. Kannada is not getting its due because of the conspiracy of politicians and bureaucrats," he alleged.

Hero Women's Pro Golf Tour III Leg

Mysuru's Pranavi Urs wins maiden professional title

Chennai, Feb. 15- Mysuru's Pranavi Urs (JWGC) became the first golfer in the history of the Hero Women's Pro Golf Tour to win successive tournaments with different status.

After winning the second leg of the 2020 Hero Women's Pro Golf Tour (WPGT) in her last start as an amateur, Pranavi has now won the third leg of the Tour, in her first start as a professional at the TNGF Cosmo Golf Course yesterday.

This is Pranavi's third win on the Hero WPGT, but the previous two — one last month and the earlier one in 2018 — came as amateurs. The win on her pro debut also augurs well for a promising career.

The win did not come easy or without tension. Pranavi, who lost this season's first leg with a triple bogey on the closing hole, came to the 18th hole at the TNGF Cosmo Golf Course with a two-shot lead despite having two bogeys and a birdie in her previous three holes.

Pranavi, who shot two-under 35 for the front nine, was four-over 39 for the back nine. That included bogeys on 10th, 15th, 16th and a double on 18th. The birdie in between on Par-3 17th saved her. Amandeep Drall, two ahead of Pranavi at the start, was even for the front nine and level with Pranavi with nine to play. On the back nine, Amandeep was unable to find any birdies and dropped shots on 10th, 11th, 16th, 17th and 18th. Even a par on any of the last three would have got her into a play-off as she ended one short of Pranavi.

Oviya Reddi, the local teen, who had done so well so far, had a tough final day with three double bogeys and three other bogeys against three birdies.

Saaniya Sharma showed that good course management would pay as she carded the day's only sub par score. It was also the second best of the week after Pranavi's second round 71. Saaniya tied for third with Oviya, for whom this was the best finish as a pro.

Vani Kapoor (74) finished fifth, while Siddhi Kapoor (72), amateur Sneha Singh (74), Neha Tripathi (76) and Afshan Fatima (78) were all tied for sixth.

Pranavi S. Urs seen in action.

Pronunciation: HER-soot
Meaning: Hairy; covered with coarse stiff hair.
Origin: Hirsute has nearly the same spelling and exactly the same meaning as its Latin parent, 'hirsutus'. The word isn't quite one of a kind, though—it has four close relatives: hirsutism and hirsuties, synonymous nouns naming a medical condition involving excessive hair growth; hirsutal, an adjective meaning "of or relating to hair"; and hirsutulous, a mostly botanical term meaning "slightly hairy" (as in "hirsutulous stems"). The Latin hirsutus is also an etymological cousin to horrēre, meaning "to bristle."
Example: Turner wore a hirsute mask as part of his werewolf costume for the school play.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Half a loaf is better than no bread

Meaning: It is better to accept less than one wants or expects than to have nothing at all.
Origin: This expression was already a proverb in John Heywood's 1546 collection. G. K. Chesterton repeated it in his essay, What's Wrong with the World: "Compromise used to mean that half a loaf was better than no bread. Among modern statesmen it really seems to mean that half a loaf is better than a whole loaf.
